

LOS GATOS CHAPTER NSDAR

'The Wall That Heals"

The closing ceremony is April 12, 2015 10:00 to 11:30 at Golden Gate National Cemetery, 1300 Sneath Lane, San Bruno, CA 94006

We are organizing a carpool for the closing ceremony of the Vietnam "Wall That Heals". Please meet at the Los Gatos Lodge. We will depart from there by 8:30 am sharp. Look for an e-vite or contact Dana Baumgardner if you plan to ride or have questions. We are working with the organizers and will have a part in the closing ceremony. The Wall That Heals is a touring exhibition, featuring a half-scale replica of The Wall and a museum that takes the Memorial's healing legacy to communities nationwide.

The Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund is trying to collect photographs of all of the veterans listed on the wall. They would like people to bring photographs to the exhibit to be scanned.

Dear Daughters

We are honored that our Chapter will be part of the closing ceremony at the Golden Gate national Cemetery and lay a wreath in honor of all the Vietnam Veterans, but in particular to Timothy Michael Carroll and Lt. Col Gordon Lee Page. We hope that you and your friends and family can come and join in the ceremony.

The program last month, "Flying Tigers" by Ray Cosyn, historian was well received by all. Aylene Kuhn, PR Chair once again did a splendid job in notifying the press. We had coverage in the local papers and even in the Mercury News! Well done, Aylene.

Next months program on April 6 will be the highly esteemed Professor Emeritus from Stanford University, Martin Hellman to speak on "Avoiding Needless Wars". He is considered the primary developer of the encryption methods used for secure digital transactions. He warned us that we shouldn't put anything in an email that we wouldn't want published in the New York Times! On his blog site "Defusing the Nuclear Threat" it is captioned The Risk of a nuclear catastrophe is far greater than we think. Our ability to reduce that risk is far greater than we imagine. Guests are welcome.

Yours in DAR service

Kim Worrall, Regent

The motto of the United States Coast Guard is "Semper Paratus," which translated means "Always Ready," and it is an appropriate description of this multi-mission branch of the United States Armed Forces. During peacetime the Coast Guard operates as part of the Department of Homeland Security, and as part of the U.S. Navy under a declaration of war by Congress or if ordered by the President. The Coast Guard also serves as a federal law enforcement agency. Established January 28, 1915, present day Coast Guard missions include safeguarding the environment, emergency response and disaster recovery, search and rescue, accident investigation, recreational boating safety and law enforcement such as preventing drug smuggling and illegal immigration. The Coast Guard is responsible for counter terrorism and defense of our nation's harbors, ports and coastlines. Read more about the Coast Guard's rich history at <http://www.uscg.mil/>.

State Regents Message-February 2015

Dear California Daughters,

March is Women's History Month, when the contributions of women to history and to contemporary society are highlighted and celebrated. For 2015, the month's theme is "Weaving the Stories of Women's Lives." As we celebrate the 125th anniversary of the founding of DAR, March is an opportune time to focus on one of DAR's Dazzling Daughters, the list of 120 DAR members who have made significant and positive contributions to American or international culture, society, or history through diligent application of their unique talents and abilities.

Included with such notables as Caroline Scott Harrison and Susan B. Anthony is Frances E. Willard. She is considered one of the most prominent women of the 19th century. She was an educator, a crusader for women's suffrage, a reformer. After serving as president of Evanston College for Ladies, she left academia in 1874 to follow her passion of social reform, namely establishing the Women's Christian Temperance Union. She fought for other social issues—prison reform, orphan care, homelessness, and prostitution. Miss Willard supported labor's struggle for an 8-hour work day. She was incensed that women could not vote and crusaded mightily for women's rights.

In 1875, she was the first alumna initiate of my sorority, Alpha Phi, serving later as our International President. She was a charter member of DAR and remembered at the Memorial Service at the 7th Continental Congress after her death in 1898. She supported the creation of Memorial Continental Hall where "the heroines of our forebears were to be honored for the first time in history." In 1905 Miss Willard was the first woman to have a statue in Statuary Hall in the U.S. Capitol. Later she was featured on the 1940 5-cent stamp. She was a mentor to many.

Two rules were the topic of her writings and speeches: first, work according to your ideals and, second, focus your energies. Her life's story truly weaves an inspirational tapestry of a role model with an expansive vision of what women can do.

As we celebrate Women's History Month, join me as we Celebrate Service...to God, Home, and Country.

President General's Message - March 2015

Dear Daughters,

You are in for a treat with this fifth annual Women's History Month edition of American Spirit magazine! As we focus on the National Society's 125th anniversary this year, Tracy Robinson, NSDAR Director of Archives and History, shares information about the four amazing Founders of our Society. Two were from the North, two were from the South, and all four were strong women who shared a love of country and a tremendous vision. As you read about these dynamic women, please consider honoring a woman who has made a contribution or a difference in your area with the Women in American History Certificate available for purchase from The DAR Store. To learn more about this American History Committee program, visit www.dar.org/members/committees/national-committees/american-history/women-american-history.

In the Whatnot section, you will learn about the founding members' role in saving the tomb of Mary Ball Washington. At the first organizing meeting of the DAR, the ladies were incensed that the grave of George Washington's mother, which had been badly damaged during the Battle of Fredericksburg, was to be sold. The first resolution adopted at this organizing meeting pledged to support the completion of the monument. These determined women were successful and a special train carried the government dignitaries, members of the DAR, S.A.R. and the National Mary Washington Association to Fredericksburg, Va. The Marine Band played "Hail to the Chief" as President Grover Cleveland arrived to begin the grand dedication on May 10, 1894.

Alden O'Brien, DAR Museum Curator of Costume and Textiles, has written a fascinating article about several quilts featured in the current DAR Museum Exhibit, "Eye on Elegance: Early Quilts of Maryland and Virginia." Not only does our Museum have one of the country's largest and finest quilt collections, but we are also unique in that family history information accompanies many of our quilts. Alden shares ways in which research revealed new information about the families of these quilt makers.

The DAR officially formed October 11, 1890, and 125 years later we are reminded of the words of Founder Eugenia Washington, who said: "We want a Society founded on service." Chapters from coast to coast are encouraged to participate in the DAR National Day of Service on October 11, 2015, as we unite to demonstrate the combined impact of our DAR mission and show that the DAR is remains a Society founded on service.

Please visit the 125th Anniversary section of the DAR Website to view slideshows, videos and other information about our history: www.dar.org/celebrate125.

We hope you will join us in Washington, D.C., at the 124th Continental Congress, which will be held June 24–28, 2015. We will be looking back at our remarkable history and the almost 940,000 women who have built this Society into one of the largest patriotic lineage and service societies in the world. Celebrating America!
